

FIVE GREAT POWERS TO TRY FORMER KAISER

SUPREME CRIME AGAINST WORLD IS THE CHARGE

Separate Trial Will Be Provided for in Peace Pact.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, April 28.—The peace treaty with Germany as drawn for presentation to the Germans contains a clause providing that former Emperor William be tried by an international tribunal, it was learned today. A separate tribunal will try other military officers.

TO BE CONSIDERED TODAY
By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, April 28.—New articles proposed for insertion in the peace treaty, to be considered at the plenary session of the peace conference today, the state department announced today include the following:

"Article 1—The allied and associated powers publicly arraign Wilhelm II of Hohenzollern, formerly German emperor, not for an offense against criminal law but for a supreme offense against international morality and the sanctity of treaties."

It is proposed that a special tribunal be constituted to try the accused consisting of five judges, one appointed by each of the five great powers: the United States, Great Britain, France and Italy and Japan.

Holland Must Comply
The allied and associated powers will request Holland to surrender the former emperor for trial.

Persons accused of violation of the laws and customs of war, according to a second proposed article will be brought before military tribunals and if found guilty "sentenced to the punishments laid down by military law."

To Demand Others
All persons accused of having committed an act in violation of the laws and customs of war who are specified "either by name or by rank, office or employment which they held under the German authorities," will be demanded (Continued on page three.)

Two More Divisions Released for Return

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C., April 28.—The 89th (Kansas, Missouri, South Dakota, Nebraska, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona) and 88th (North Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa and West Illinois) divisions were released on April 25 and April 26, respectively, "for preparation for return to the United States." General Pershing notified the war department today. The 88th division was released for the purpose of clearing its forward area, the dispatch said, but will not change the order of departure from France.

Preparation for return is not equivalent to assignment to early convey, it was explained at the war department, but indicates that such assignment may be expected within a few weeks.

E. T. Fuller left this morning for Janesville, Wis., where he will spend several days on business.

Mrs. Charles Bohlen, of Nelson, was in Dixon Saturday visiting relatives.

LEAGUE COVENANT IS PRESENTED TO PEACE CONFERENCE FOR O. K.

Interests of America in Many Respects Given Consideration.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, April 28.—Publication by the state department today of the revised covenant of the league of nations gave the text of the document to the American people several hours in advance of its presentation to the peace conference in plenary session at Paris.

The substance of the covenant, including material changes designed particularly to meet criticisms in the United States, had been disclosed two weeks ago through an official summary, but many members of the senate, officials and other students of the nation's foreign relations had withheld final judgment pending careful analysis of the complete text.

Same as Summary
Apparently these observers found that the official summary had given a fairly comprehensive outline of the document, especially of the amendments. The new article specifically exempting international engagements and regional understandings, "such as the Monroe Doctrine," had been quoted verbatim.

The summary also had outlined amendments exempting national domestic questions from the jurisdiction of the league, providing for withdrawal of member nations upon two years' notice, leaving it to member states to decide what armed force, if any, they will contribute to any force which the league may determine it necessary to enforce its rulings, providing that mandates shall be given only to states willing to accept them, and stating definitely that armament reduction programs become effective only when approved by the states concerned.

New Zealand Added

Most of the congressional leaders were out of the city today, including Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, who will be the next chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, and Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, retiring chairman.

Two cabinet corrections upon the text of the annex to the covenant were received today by the state department. In the list of original members the name of New South Wales was eliminated and that of New Zealand added. The word "no" was inserted at the beginning of the last sentence to correct an obvious error in transmission.

YOUNG MOTHER TOOK HER LIFE THIS MORNING

Mrs. C. C. Barnett of Near Woosung is a Suicide.

Mrs. Clinton C. Barnett, who resided on the William McGlinch farm northeast of Woosung, committed suicide at about 10 o'clock this morning by cutting her throat from ear to ear with a kitchen knife while her two little daughters, aged 8 and 14, were at school, and her husband was at work in the field. Melancholia because of bad news received concerning a sister is believed to have caused the mental derangement which brought about the tragedy.

For several days, it is reported, the mother, who was about 33 or 34 years of age, had manifested her determination to end her life, but this morning she appeared more cheerful than usual. She got her children ready for school and prepared their lunch, after which she busied herself with her housework. She was thus engaged when her husband went to the field.

Found Her Body.

About an hour and a half later he returned to the house, entered the kitchen and called to her. Receiving no response he instituted a search and found her body, a few minutes later, in a pool of blood in an upstairs bedroom, while nearby lay a sharp kitchen knife with which the unfortunate woman had slashed her throat on both sides. A physician was summoned, and his examination of the body showed that all of the major blood vessels of the throat had been severed.

Coroner Charles P. Unger, of Rochelle, went to Woosung during the afternoon and is now conducting an inquest. Father and children are prostrated.

U. S. AMBASSADOR TO ITALY LEAVES ROME FOR PARIS

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Rome, Italy, April 28.—(Havas.)—Thomas Nelson Page, the American ambassador to Italy, has left Rome for Paris.

An Italian newspaper report from Rome received by the Associated Press April 25, said that Ambassador Page had offered his resignation because he had been made "acquainted with President Wilson's views on the Italian claims." The statement was authorized at the state department in Washington on that day, however, that there was no foundation for this report. It was added that there had been various reports since the armistice that Ambassador Page would resign soon to resume his literary work; but opinion on the part of state department officials was that whatever Mr. Page's personal plans for the future might be, he would not consider resigning at this time.

ORGANIZE OUTDOOR SPORT FRIDAY EVE

A meeting has been called for Friday evening, May 2nd, at 7:30, at the Y. M. C. A. of all men interested in an outdoor athletic program for the coming summer. It is planned to have a baseball league or two again this summer, similar to those of last summer which proved of such interest to a large number of men. A longer season will be arranged, all games to be played by twilight on a field yet to be selected.

Tennis will no doubt interest a large number of Y. M. C. A. members as well volleyball. It is the plan of the Y. M. C. A. to have a full outdoor program this summer and it is desired that every man in the Y. M. C. A. take part.

Hungarian Priest is Executed for Revolt

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Zurich, Switzerland, April 28.—An anti-communist uprising in Fueses, Hungary, near Sopron (Odenburg), west of Budapest, began April 19 and ended a few days later with the execution of a priest on false charges and the imposition of prison sentences on fifteen others accused of participation in the revolt. This news has just been received here from Vienna, having been held up by the rigid censorship at Budapest.

The revolt began among the peasants who defeated a red army force sent from Sopron. Reinforcements finally enabled the troops to suppress the revolt. The communist government immediately sent revolutionary judges to Fueses to punish the rebels.

FINNS WIN OLONETZ FROM REDS AND SET UP NEW GOVERNMENT

Allied Campaign Helped By Victory of Russ Forces in North.

REDS BEATEN IN EAST

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Helsingfors, April 28.—A national assembly has been formed at Olonetz, 110 miles northeast of Petrograd, where the Finns have driven out the bolsheviks. The town was captured, according to reports of volunteer troops.

The capture of Olonetz by forces opposed to the bolsheviks may have an important effect on the allied campaign along the Murmansk railway and through it on the situation in the Archangel region. For several weeks allied forces commanded by General Maynard have been pressing southward along the Murmansk railway and were last reported approaching Povenetz, at the northern end of Lake Ladoga. From Povenetz the Murmansk railway swings westward and before it reaches a Stockholm report Sunday said that a revolt had broken out in Olonetz and it is possible that the bolshevik force facing General Maynard may be cut off by the anti-bolshevik advance from Olonetz. If the Murmansk railway line can be cleared as far south of Olonetz, the allies will be in position to outflank the bolshevik south of Archangel who also are threatened by the Siberian advance in the Viatka region.

KOLCHAK REACHES KINEL.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, April 28.—Admiral Kolchak's troops have advanced along the southern branch of the trans-Siberian railroad in eastern European Russia to Kinel, only 40 miles east of Samara, according to dispatches received by the Russian commissioners in Paris from Omsk, the capital of Admiral Kolchak's government.

A slower advance is also being made along the northern branch of the trans-Siberian, where the anti-bolshevik forces have taken Glazov, east of Viatka. A third column is moving westward midway between these two forces and has reached Sarapul on the Kama river. This stream is navigable and flows in the Volga and with the disappearance of the ice, which is now breaking up, should afford easy transportation to Simbirsk, which is apparently the destination of the central column.

Expect Rapid Advance.
Prince Lvoff and other members of the Russian commission here believe that the movement westward will be rapid (Continued on Page 5.)

HURT IN ACCIDENT ON CHICAGO ROAD

Elmer Rynearson, 314 Logan avenue, sustained painful injuries to his back Saturday evening when a Maxwell touring car, in which he and companions were riding, turned over as they attempted to pass another car on the Chicago Road. The accident occurred near the Jonas Stultz residence at about 9:45 o'clock and Rynearson was pinned under the machine, his companions, Michael Smith, owner and driver of the car, Albert Ruggles and Smith's brother, being thrown clear of the car as it rolled over.

In attempting to turn out to allow a south-bound car to pass, the Smith machine slipped over the edge of the embankment, and an attempt to pull it up on the road caused it to turn over while running about 30 miles an hour. Deputy Sheriff Miller and a physician were summoned and took the injured man to the hospital where he is receiving treatment. The car was badly damaged.

RECRUITING OFFICER COMING TO DIXON

Sergt. Moran, U. S. A., who has been in charge of a recruiting office in Sterling for a number of weeks, today received orders to spend tomorrow and Wednesday in Dixon, and according to word here on those days with headquarters at the post office. All men who are interested in army life, with a chance to see Europe, should make it a point to see the sergeant during his visit here.

E. H. McPHERAN OF PASADENA CALLED

E. H. McPheran, formerly of Sterling, who was born in this city and who was very well known here, passed away at his home in Pasadena, Cal., word of his death being received in Sterling this morning. He was a brother of Mrs. Elizabeth M. Galt, of Sterling, and Mrs. C. B. Betts, of Spokane, and went to Pasadena from Chicago about ten years ago.

John Joynt and bride of Chicago visited over Sunday at the home of his parents. Miss Marie Joynt was also here from Chicago.

AUTOPSY FAILS TO SHOW SIGNS OF VIOLENT POISON

However, Report of Pathological Institute Asked.

Insisting to a friend that he had been poisoned, but steadfastly refusing to tell whether he had taken poison himself or had been given it, John Cator, known to his Dixon friends as John Moss, passed away at the Katherine Shaw Bethel hospital last evening at about 7:20, following an illness of about one week's duration. The body was removed to the Jones undertaking parlors, where Dr. E. S. Murphy, assisted by Dr. C. H. Bokhof conducted a post mortem examination. Parts of various organs of the body will be sent to a pathologist in Chicago for final examination.

Coroner Whetston arrived this morning and will select a jury this afternoon. The jury will view the remains and probably not conduct the inquest until a final report is returned from the pathological laboratory. The post mortem examination did not reveal any signs of violent poisoning, and it now appears quite possible that the young man came to his death from a complication of natural causes. For a time it was thought that he was suffering from the effects of poisoning, his actions at the time he was taken ill suddenly at the John Youngberg home on Palmyra avenue last Monday evening, indicating that such a condition existed.

Sergeant John Moss was born in Pennsylvania, a colony now belonging to Roumania. He came to the United States when a boy and had worked at Hannibal, Mo., Detroit, Mich., and several other places before coming to Dixon in 1915. He was about 26 years of age and is survived by his parents who reside in Austria. One brother, who is thought to be in France, also survives. No members of his immediate family reside in this country. An aunt, Mrs. Sam Dordah, who lives on the Standard farm south of Amboy, is probably the nearest relative. Another aunt and uncle, thought to be living in Canton, Ohio, are survivors.

TWO STORES AT WEST BROOKLYN BURNED SUNDAY

Business Section of Village Threatened By Flames.

(Special to the Telegraph)
West Brooklyn, April 28.—The business section of West Brooklyn was threatened with destruction by fire Sunday noon when the building occupied by the F. D. Gehant & Son implement store and plumbing shop and the W. A. Lough hardware store was burned to the ground, their entire contents being consumed in the flames. The burned buildings were in the center of the business district, with the Henry garage adjoining and with the hotel and several other frame buildings close by, and the firemen were seriously handicapped when the flames burned off the electric wires which furnished power to the pump at one of the wells, thus limiting the water supply to one well.

It was 11:30 o'clock when the flames were discovered, the entire interior of the Gehant store, a concrete structure, being in flames. Rapidly the blaze spread into the frame building occupied by the hardware store, and the firemen were forced to devote their attention to saving surrounding property.

The buildings, which were owned by F. D. Gehant, were two story structures, the upper floor being used by the Domestic Science club. This club had furnished the rooms handsomely, the furnishings being destroyed, and in addition to the stocks of merchandise lost in the stores J. W. Theil lost plows and tractors valued at $2000 which he had on exhibition in the implement store. The loss is estimated at between $10,000 and $15,000.

LOAN SUBSCRIPTIONS TOTAL OVER BILLION

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Washington, D. C., April 28.—One billion dollars had been subscribed to the Victory Liberty loan, according to unofficial reports. It was considered doubtful, however, that the official figures which the treasury recognizes would reach the billion dollar mark by tonight.

At the opening of the second week of the three-weeks campaign, reports to the treasury today reflected a tendency among hundreds of communities which are approaching or have passed the goal set for them to over-subscribe, in compliance with the treasury's latest request.

It will be necessary to raise $216,000,000 subscriptions a day between now and May 10, the last day of the campaign, to subscribe the $4,500,000,000 total of the loan.

CHARGES "BIG CITY" POLITICS IN COUNT OF STERLING VOTES

Strange Practices Are Alleged in Sterling Election.

In his petition for a recount of the votes cast for mayor in the city election in Sterling on April 15, which petition was filed in the Circuit court at Morrison Saturday, J. P. Overholser, who on the face of the returns was defeated by N. G. Van Sant by three votes claims that irregularities on the part of the election officials deprived him of a majority of 20.

The petition claims that the judges and clerks refused to count a large number of votes which were cast for Overholser, marking them "defective" or "objected to," and that the judges also permitted certain persons who were not legal residents of Sterling to vote. It is also charged that some voters were allowed to vote for mayor more than once.

Strange Procedure

Mr. Overholser's petition, filed by Attorney Kidder and Ludens, claims many startling irregularities in the Fifth precinct, where it is charged that five hundred and thirty-four ballots were cast, two hundred and seventy-four were lawfully cast for petitioner, but that the judges and clerks refused to count correctly and certified that only two hundred and fifty-eight votes had been cast for petitioner, which said return was false and untrue. This making a difference of twenty votes each way, and that four votes cast in said precinct were cast by persons not legal voters, and were cast for defendant, and that the judges and clerks of election in the Fifth precinct were wholly incompetent and unable to conduct said election in said precinct according to the law as prescribed by statute, that said judges of election did repeatedly give to voters at said election two ballots for the office of mayor and other offices and petitioner believes that by reason thereof more than one vote for the office of mayor was cast.

Outsiders Admitted

That they did admit the public and a number of persons to enter the room where said judges and clerks of election were so endeavoring to count and to interfere with the counting, tallying and return of the votes cast, that particularly said judges and clerks of election did wrongfully and fraudulently permit William Johnson, a boy of twelve or fourteen years of age, the son of one J. W. Johnson, one of the clerks of election of said fifth precinct, (Continued on page 4.)

Hines Now in Favor of Stabilizing Prices

EDWARDS HINTS DEATH PENALTY IN MURDER CASE

Questions to Jurors Indicate He May Ask It.

That State's Attorney Harry Edwards will ask the death penalty for R. E. Johnson and Alfonso Lucas, the two negroes who were placed on trial before Judge O. E. Heard in the Lee county circuit court this afternoon for the murder of George Bush, colored, in the Northwestern railroad yards at Nelson on the night of December 6, 1918, was indicated this afternoon when the prosecutor commenced his examination of venemen.

The court room was crowded when the prosecutor began his examination and the spectators followed the questioning of the jurors with the utmost interest, for Mr. Edwards asked every veneman if he believed in enforcement of the statutes in the case of deliberate and premeditated murder, and he also asked each one if he had any compunctions against capital punishment.

Judge Asks Questions

When the jury box was first filled with venemen Judge Heard asked if any of the men had conscientious prejudices against infliction of the death penalty for murder, and five were discharged on that account, while five others admitted feeling against the colored race which would prevent them being impartial jurors. It was after 2 o'clock before twelve men, free from these two prejudices, were found, at which time Mr. Edwards began his questioning.

In addition to asking prospective jurors if they had any prejudices against infliction of the death penalty Mr. Edwards asked each juror if it was proven that both defendants were present at the time Bush was killed and each was shooting, if there would be any hesitancy in finding both guilty even though the bullets from but one of the revolvers brought about the murdered man's death.

Had Been Expected.

Friends of the state's attorney have felt all along that when this case came to trial he would ask the jury for a verdict carrying the fullest penalty of the law—death; for he has repeatedly characterized the murder of the young negro at Nelson as the most clearly premeditated foul murder in the history.

Evidence given at the coroner's inquest was to the effect that the two defendants and another negro, "Curley" Wilson, after spending the day at the Starks cottage up the river, went to Nelson on the evening of Dec. 6, prepared to "settle up matters with Bush."

It was shown at the inquest that each of the three carried a revolver, and the testimony of William Bush of this city was to the effect that the three had sneaked upon their quarry from behind a tank, and all had fired at the victim without giving him a chance to escape.

Asked Reward for Arrests.
At the December meeting of the Board of Supervisors the state's attorney appeared and asked the county (Continued on Page 5.)

IRELAND REPLETE WITH ROMANCE

Attorney Sim Mee, Who Read Law in Dixon & Dixon Office, Writes of Interesting Journey He Took Through Emerald Isle—Kissed the Blarney Stone with Assistance of Several Kind-Hearted Irishmen Who Held His Feet.

Attorney John E. Erwin has received the following very interesting story of a trip to Ireland, taken by Sim T. Mee, who at one time studied law in the Dixon & Dixon offices in this city and who is well known here:

April 7, 1919.

On March 20th I left here for England, Ireland and Paris. Paris is mentioned in the above order as it was on my return trip that I spent the most time there. Enclosed with this letter you will find a few pictures of the most famous places visited on the trip which will facilitate the meager description herein set down.

The time taken up with traveling was very unpleasant so it will be sufficient to state that a man in the military service who is not an officer has a very hard time trying to make himself comfortable while actually engaged in riding third class on boats and trains.

On the morning of March 22nd I arrived in Southampton, England, where I was furnished auto transportation by the Red Cross to their hut. At this place breakfast was served, railroad tickets sold, and a lot of general information given. Everything but the railroad transportation was furnished free including cigarettes and candy. No word of praise can really describe the wonderful work this organization is doing for the soldiers.

At two o'clock in the afternoon I arrived in London city where I was again furnished with transportation across the city to the Red Cross headquarters at which place a red hot dinner was waiting. This was also furnished free of charge. This all sounds very good but pleasure was tempered with the disagreeable feature (although very necessary) of checking in and out of each military post.

At 8:20 o'clock on the evening of the same day I started for Dublin. This part of the trip was the most unpleasant as the sea was rough and the third class hole on the boat was very damp and cold, but I was fortunate enough not to catch cold.

The next morning found me in the St. Fin city and after looking over the town until noon I retired as I had been without sleep for two nights. Dublin is not the most handsome place in the world so the first impression was not very favorable, although this changed after I became acquainted with the people. I did not spend much time here (I left the next morning) so I will postpone my description until my return trip.

I must state here that the Irish people are the most open hearted, friendly, charitable and hospitable race that I have thus far met. During the entire trip the hospitality shown me was the best to the extreme, so I will relate the different instances throughout the journey and let you draw your own conclusions.

The next morning I left Dublin en route for Cork bent on kissing the Blarney Stone. I was a bit late arriving at the railroad station and was experiencing some difficulty in finding a seat when my ears were greeted with a very pleasant brogue stating that a seat was being saved for the "Yank just inside the compartment. Both in Ireland and England the trains are very much different than those you have in the States. The short car divided into several compartments, each one of which seats eight people, takes the place of our long coaches. Upon entering this car I met a big Irishman who was engaged in guarding very carefully the seat which I was about to occupy.

My baggage being safely tucked away under the seat the rest of the time was spent in a very pleasant conversation with my newly acquired friend. He first asked if I was a stranger in the country and whether I had any relations with whom I could spend my leave. After answering in the negative I received a very urgent invitation to stop at Cork and spend all of my leave at his home. This, of course, I did not do as I wanted to see as much of the country as possible within the short time allotted me, but when the train arrived at Cork it was useless for me to decline his hospitality, at least for a day or two. It was noon when the train pulled into the city so I went with this man to his home where a wonderful dinner was served. After dinner he secured two bicycles, and it was not long before we were on our way to Blarney Castle.

At this place I kissed the famous stone with the assistance, of course, of a few kindhearted Irishmen. The first kissing was done in the old familiar way of lying on the back, bending down around the cornice of the building, and with the help of an iron bar on either side descending low enough to enable me to kiss the outside corner, during all of which time two or three people held my feet. The necessity of all these precautions can be readily realized when you look at the stone. The distance from the stone to the ground is about 120 feet. Just about the time that I concluded the first embrace of the cold hearted stone two American sailors came along. One of them said that he would show me how it was done so he grabbed hold of the bars, let himself down, and gave old Blarney a good smack. He then pulled himself up without any assistance. His friend next did the same so it was up to me to keep up the good reputation of the Americans which I attempted. Everything went well until it came time to draw my own weight up, hand over hand. In the execution of this feat I had to be materially assisted by the bunch. Experience is the best teacher, and as I have graduated from this school in so far as Blarney is concerned, I can advise all my friends not to try the same stunt.

After this ordeal was over we returned to my friend's house where a great supper was waiting for us. That evening was spent in a discussion of the "Irish Question." The next day I went to Killarney. Before I go any further you must be advised as to the reputation of Blarney. One legend is that Lord Clancarty, when a prisoner to Sir George Carew, was required to surrender his castle to the soldiers of Queen Elizabeth as proof of his loyalty, and though professing his willingness to do so, always avoided by some plausible excuse. Hence the term "Blarney" for a plausible tongue. Another story is that Cormac McCarthy, a descendant of the Kings of Munster, chanced one day to save the life of an old woman. She told him to mount the keep and kiss a certain stone in the wall, and he would be endowed with a golden tongue, which would influence man or woman, friend or foe, as he pleased.

The third, and as they say, the most pleasing legend is as follows: When a year's truce was made between Robert Bruce and Edward III., pending the surrender of Stirling Castle, Edward Bruce, when taking refuge the English, came to Cormac McCarthy, King of Munster, and asked for his help. Cormac gave him 5,000 soldiers, who went over to Scotland and fought at Bannockburn, and then Bruce sent him, as a return for his assistance, a piece of the old stone of Seone (which they had removed from Ireland) to be put in the new keep which Cormac intended adding to the Norman Castle built in 1200.

At 10:30 the next day I arrived at Killarney. From the train I rode to a hotel in an Irish Jaunting Cart, one of which is shown in the enclosed views. The inn keeper was a fine old Irishman with customary hospitality. Soon after I booked for a room the clerk had a trip all arranged.

At eleven o'clock I loaded into a jaunting cart and had a very pleasant eight mile ride up into the mountains. The jaury in charge of the cart was the most entertaining sketch that I met on the entire trip. Every house we passed he told me a yarn in connection therewith, and included the family history of the natives. On this part of the journey I saw the house of Daniel O'Connell's brother, and the place where Casement was captured.

When Kate Kearney's Cottage was reached I paid the carriage, and then hired a horse upon which I rode about ten miles farther into the mountains. (Note the enclosed booklet.) All along the route I met the natives of the hills most of whom I imagine, had never left their primitive homes since the time that they were born. The biggest share of them were beggars, or else they were selling "Mountain Dew," a drink distilled in the hills. I spent some little time talking to them as they all had interesting yarns and a good brogue. The scenery was the best that I have ever seen but the pictures will show that better than I can describe it.

At the head of the lakes I gave up the horse and hired a row boat with two men to pull the oars. This part of the sojourn was beautiful, and although it was a fourteen mile trip the time passed rather rapidly as the men at the oars had a good collection of yarns. On one of the mountains is a large crest which they call the Devil's Punch Bowl. One of these fellows claimed that they had driven the Devil out of Ireland some years before and that he took refuge in the mountains. They finally closed in on him and he jumped into this crest or hole. As the story goes he came out in England after leaving Ireland.

Six o'clock found me back at the hotel face to face with a good country supper. That evening all the guests gathered around the fire and listened to the hotel man tell stories. This, of course, does not sound like a high time, but it proved very interesting and is the ideal way to spend a leave. The next few days were spent in about the same manner after which I left for Dublin. I forgot to state that Ross Castle is run by a man named O'Rourke, an ex-policeman. As I did not meet him I do not know whether he is any relation of ours.

In Dublin I saw a lot of war devastation, the result of the revolution in 1916, when the English backed their boats up there and fired into the city. Every place one goes in the city he can observe a spirit of unrest. On every corner and in all public houses the men are talking politics and are very pronounced in their feeling against England. All of them seem to be living in hope that the peace conference will give them some assistance.

Soon after I arrived in the city I met an old gentleman who had retired from active work so he devoted the best part of two days in showing me around. While there I visited Glasnevin, famous as the residence of Swift, Addison, Steel, Sheridan and Parnell, but at this time chiefly noted for its great cemetery, in which so many notable Irishmen rest. O'Connell, Parnell and Steel are buried close to each other. Over O'Connell's grave stands a beautiful round tower of the same proportions as the ancient round towers of Ireland. Many of the Sinn Feiners, victims of the recent trouble, are also resting here.

Phoenix Park is a splendid place, and a person can spend many pleasant hours looking over the numerous sights. It is seven miles in circumference, and comprises 1,700 statute acres. When I learned the size of the park I hired a jaunting cart and a good story-telling jaury and looked the place over. The most notable places in the park are the Vice-regal Lodge, the residence of the Lord Lieutenant; the Chief Secretary's Lodge, the Under-Secretary's Lodge, the People's Gardens, the Zoological Gardens, the Depot of the Royal Irish Constabulary, the Hibernian Military School, the Mountjoy Barracks and the Magazine Fort, as well as grounds devoted to sports of various kinds, notably polo, football and cricket.

The Bank of Ireland is the architectural gem of Dublin. It is still called the House of Parliament as in previous times it was used for this purpose.

I spent some little time in going through Trinity College, the greatest educational institution in Ireland. There are about 1,000 students, who besides taking the course in Arts, may proceed to the school of Medicine, Law, Engineering or Divinity.

Leinster House, formerly the town house of the Dukes of Leinster, now the home of the Royal Dublin Society, founded in 1731, for the encouragement of Art, Science and Industry, under whose auspices are yearly held the Great Dublin Horse Show and the Cattle Show. This place contains some splendid ceilings and marble work worth seeing. The White House is built in the same style as this house so it makes a hit with all Americans.

I also visited the Natural History Museum, the National Library, St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin Castle, Christ Church Cathedral and Guinness's Brewery, but you will have to wait until I get back before you can get a complete description of all of them.

After doing Ireland I embarked for England and spent three days and a half in London. Here I saw so many wonderful sights that it will be impossible for me to include them in this letter. In a few days I will continue the trip for you so for the time being, I am As ever,

WHEN YOU WAKE UP DRINK GLASS OF HOT WATER

Wash the poisons and toxins from system before putting more food into stomach.

Says inside-bathing makes anyone look and feel clean, sweet and refreshed.

Wash yourself on the inside before breakfast like you do on the outside. This is vastly more important because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing illness, while the bowel pores do.

For every ounce of food and drink taken into the stomach, nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried out of the body. If this waste material is not eliminated day by day it quickly ferments and generates poisons, gases and toxins which are absorbed or sucked into the blood stream, through the lymph ducts which should suck only nourishment to sustain the body.

A splendid health measure is to drink, before breakfast each day, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless way to wash these poisons, gases and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs but very little at the drug store but is sufficient to make anyone an enthusiast on inside-bathing. Men and women who are accustomed to wake up with a dull, aching head or have furred tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, sallow complexion, others who have bilious attacks, acid stomach or constipation are assured of pronounced improvement in both health and appearance shortly.

OUR INTEREST IN EUROPE.

It begins to appear, even to the most ardent well-wishers of the administration, that the policy of internationalism, and a too-keen interest of the welfare of the world to the exclusion of the best interests of America, is getting the United States into embarrassing extremities.

Great Britain and France made a pledge to Italy at the outbreak of the war with Germany. Those powers told Italy that if she would forsake the triple alliance and join the allied powers, she might have certain Austrian territory for hers when the war was won. The war is won now, and the allies seek to make a "scrap of paper" of this solemn pact with Italy.

America was not a party to this agreement. It is assumed that England and France do not want to fulfill their promises and that Mr. Wilson, in announcing that the league will not allow Fiume to go to Italy is speaking for England and France as well. But why should America be the "goat?"

When the war was ended, America stood in high favor with Italy. Yankee soldiers who fought shoulder to shoulder with the Italians on the Piave were decorated, feted and honored by their admirer comrades in arms. Italian streets were named for President Wilson and he was showered with royal gifts and popular favor. Today all Italy is crying "down with Wilson."
"Wilson Street" is being renamed
"Fiume Street." American officers are insulted in Italian cafes. America and Americans are hated as cordially in Italy as in Germany.

London newspapers are bitter in their criticism of the President. They suggest that he follow the example set by Premier Orlando of Italy and go home.
They call his diplomacy blundering.

America insists, and properly, that the Monroe Doctrine be recognized. We will brook no foreign interference on the American continent. Can we maintain that position if we persist in interfering in European politics? Are we so vitally interested in European politics that an American fleet must keep order in the Adriatic? Must America sacrifice friendship with European peoples, bought so dearly in the war, to satisfy the desires of politicians?

The theory behind America's action in the peace conference is world welfare. We have taken upon ourselves the job of world umpire. If the League of Nations would end all war, it would be splendid, of course, but the first result seems to start a new one. Man-

GIVING IT WHAT YOU MIGHT CALL A "FACTORY TEST."

made laws will not change human nature. Southeastern Europe has the war-lust in its hot southern blood. To attempt to keep order the world over necessitates force of arms, and the question is: Is America sufficiently interested in the affairs of every corner of the world that she will want to send her young men and her money into war to keep order there?

America has demonstrated her ability to make war. She has a right to feel confidence in her ability to take care of herself, if congress will profit by experience and provide universal training and other reasonable protective measures. Our standing as a world power is established. Our reputation as a nation is high.

A belligerent attitude regarding Europe's personal affairs cannot improve our position. Our wisest course is to avoid entangling interference on other continents if we would avoid objectionable interest in our part of the world by other nations.

We recommend to the new city commission an equipment of street signs for Dixon. The few faded, battered, weatherworn signs left (if any) hang by the nail.

To a man in a high public position a slight cold is always serious. It must be the office he holds that makes him sicker than he really is.

More power to the state road building machine. We want those permanent highways.

to handle said ballots, carrying them
in bunches from one end of the table to another and otherwise meddled with and manipulated said ballots while the same were on the table in said election precinct to be counted, tallied and returns thereof made. That said judges and clerks of election did permit one Harry Kidd, who was neither a judge nor clerk of election, and divers other persons to enter the polling booth when and where said ballots were being counted and to interfere with the counting, all of which is contrary to statute.

That petitioner believes that a number of ballots cast for him as mayor at said fifth precinct were by reason of carelessness, neglect and fraudulent manner in which the ballots were handled and interfered with by other persons that the judges and clerks of said fifth precinct, lost or destroyed, and that said election as to said fifth precinct by reason thereof should be declared void, that ten or more ballots in said fifth precinct which were marked "defective" and were not legal ballots and should not have been counted, were counted for the defendant.

Other Irregularities

That in said election and the count of the ballots cast there were other and divers miscounts, errors, frauds and irregularities whereby there was returned a very large number of votes more for the said defendant than were cast for him, and petitioner believes that there were more legal votes cast for him than for defendant. Wherefore petitioner represents and charges that the said returns of said election, as returned and canvassed and declared as aforesaid, were false and untrue and that the said Nicholas G. Van Sant did not receive a higher number of votes for office of mayor than petitioner but actually received less, and asks that on account of the mistakes and errors the court determine the real count, and that the declaration of the board of canvassers of the election, and certificate of election heretofore issued to Nicholas G. Van Sant be declared null and void.

Rochelle Debaters Win from Mendota

Rochelle community high school won the dual oratorical contest with Mendota township high school held in Rochelle Friday evening, winning 59 points to Mendota 30.

Rochelle won a unanimous decision in the debate on compulsory industrial arbitration. Sheeple, Sherwood and Johnson supporting the affirmative or weaker end of the argument. Breaux, Klinter and Kaufman, handled the negative for Mendota in a very able manner.

In declamation Miss Edith Shaw and Miss Juanita Feder tied for first place and were awarded the 30 points for first and second places. Miss Helen Jones and Miss Hannah Kugler did themselves credit as Rochelle's representatives.

Hackett of Rochelle won from Sauer of Mendota in the oration, adding another 20 points to the 60 already won by his school in the debate. The contest was in charge of Supt. Wing of Rochelle and Prof. Page of DeKalb, Supt.
Hagan of Dixon and Attorney Fiske of DeKalb, acted as judges.

Mendota walked away with Marshelles
in a similar contest including the same question in debate April 23. The contest Friday evening closed a two-year contract with Mendota and Rochelle,
the latter having won the cups in both meets.

NO CHANGE PLANNED IN 13TH DISTRICT

According to the revised plan for congressional reapportionment of Illinois,
there will be no change in the Thirteenth district, which includes Lee county.

The present Eleventh and Twelfth districts are made into three districts by the addition of Lake county from the old Tenth. The tentative construction of the new districts is as follows:

Lake, McHenry, Boone and Winnebago.

DeKalb, Kane, Kendall and Dupage.
Will, Grundy and LaSalle.

The first named is coextensive with the present seventeenth judicial circuit, and is understood to be satisfactory to Congressman Fuller. The Kane county district is coextensive with the existing sixteenth judicial circuit.

The report is that the Republican leaders in Joliet and LaSalle county are agreed that the Will-Grundy-LaSalle
district is a happy solution.

Under the proposed agreement the downstate gets its additional district through the cut up of the Eleventh and Twelfth districts, and Cook county gets the other new district.

Commencement invitations should be ordered early. Teachers and pupils call at The Evening Telegraph office and see samples.

As spring advances and they expect that the lower Volga valley will soon be under the control of the Kolchak government. It is also hoped the Omsk forces will soon capture Viatka, thus making it imperative that the bolsheviks withdraw from the Archangel section as the railway running north from Viatka reaches the Dvina at Kotlas and would make communication easy between the allied forces in northern Russia and those of the Omsk government. Admiral Kolchak's troops in all three columns are Russians, all Czechoslovak and allied forces having remained in Siberia. Their excellent showing has attracted much attention in peace conference circles and is assisting the movement inaugurated some time ago for the recognition of the Omsk government by the entente powers and the United States.

OPPOSE FEEDING BOLSHEVIKI

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, April 28.—Dr. Fridtjof Nansen's plan for the neutrals to supply food to Moscow and Petrograd is apparently making little headway. As yet he has been unable to communicate with Nikolai Lenin, the bolshevik premier of Russia, and the opposition to the plan among the Russians here as representatives of the anti-bolshevik governments and in the French press is becoming more pronounced.

The Russian representatives insist that the armies which are now making an extensive showing against the bolsheviks should not be handicapped by movements which tend to encourage the Lenin troops. The bolshevik premier's reported willingness to recognize foreign debts and to grant concessions in consideration of receiving food supplies and ceasing hostilities is taken by the Russians here as a distinct admission of weakness. They urge that plans for supplying food to bolshevik Russia would only prolong the ascendancy of Lenin and his colleagues and prevent a speedy restoration of normal conditions.

The defeat of the bolsheviks in Kiev in the Archangel section on the Baltic front and along the two branches of the trans-Siberian railroad is regarded by Nicholas Tchaikovsky, head of the provisional government of northern Russia, and his associates, as proof that transportation facilities are failing the bolsheviks and that they are no longer able to shift their armies quickly enough to meet attacks.

DE KALB MAN CITED IN BLUE SKY CASE

Col. E. C. Lott, of DeKalb, well known in Dixon, is figuring prominently in an investigation of the Black Diamond Oil Co., a $40,000,000 corporation now defunct, by Judge K. M. Landis in Chicago. Concerning Mr. Lott a Chicago paper report of the hearing Saturday says:

Representative Howard was questioned by Judge Landis regarding the circumstances surrounding his introduction of Judge James Hayes of Tulsa, Okla., general counsel for the oil company, and Col. E. C. Lott, of DeKalb, one of the principal promoters, to Walter Flint, chief of the "blue sky" division of Secretary of State Emmerson's office at Springfield.

Tells of Efforts.

Howard said he introduced the oil men at the request of former State Senator Isaac B. Craig of Mattoon, who telephoned him and asked that he bring about a meeting between Mr. Emmerson and Judge Hayes. In accordance, he went to Springfield, he said, met Hayes and Lott, and went with them to see Flint at the capitol. He denied having vouched for the company or having used his personal influence in its behalf.

"Do you mean to say that all Mr. Craig wanted you to do was to go to Springfield from Mattoon merely to introduce these two worthies to the secretary of state?" inquired Judge Landis. Howard replied affirmatively.

"Mr. Howard," said Judge Landis, "it appears that whenever this gang wanted to reach anyone they got a state senator or a member of the legislature to introduce them properly; isn't that true?"

Representative Howard offered no comment.

AUTOPSY FAILS TO SHOW SIGNS VIOLENT POISON

Singer residence on Palmyra avenue, the greater part of the time. He came to Dixon from Detroit in 1915 and for a time was employed at the Sandusky cement plant. He left Dixon with Company G and was commissioned a sergeant at Camp Logan, near Houston, Texas. He was discharged from the service at Camp Grant and returned to Dixon and the Singer home on March 8. Since that time he has been employed at the Borden plant, where he worked up until the time he was taken ill.

During the time of his illness he made no statement as to the condition of his health. Many times he asked for water or milk and when offered to him, he refused it and asked that he be given no poison. This also led to the belief that he was suffering from some violent poison.

At press time no final arrangements were made for the funeral which will probably be a military one and held Wednesday morning. It is planned to have the members of Company F attend the funeral in a body and act as an escort. Final arrangements will be announced tomorrow. In the meantime the body will be held at the Jones undertaking parlors.

Michael Stolla of this city, who knew the deceased from the time he was a small child, was with Moss from the time he was taken to the hospital on Thursday morning until his death. In this time he became rational at short intervals and conversed briefly with his countryman. Moss made the statement that he had been poisoned but at no time would he give any information as to whether he had taken a poison or that it had been given to him.

The autopsy this morning revealed unusual conditions of certain organs of the body. The heart was considerably enlarged and the condition of the lungs indicated a marked pneumonic condition. One of the kidneys was about one third normal size. The examination of the brain revealed a hemorrhage and other complications. Several nurses from the hospital as well as a number of local physicians attended the autopsy.

Coroner Whetston impaneled the following jury, had them view the remains this afternoon, and then adjourned the inquest until 2 p. m. Friday: John M. Sterling, John H. Byers, Julius C. Williams, Harry Wheeler, Henry Raffenberg and Charles E. Miller.

BOAT OVERTURNS; 4 SAILORS DROWN

By Associated Press Leased Wire

New York, April 28.—Four sailors were drowned early this morning when a motor dory belonging to the United States destroyer Bell was struck in a collision with the U. S. S. Henley, according to an official statement issued this afternoon from the office of the chief of staff of Rear Admiral Ashley Robertson.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

New York, April 28.—Thirteen sailors returning in a navy launch to the battleship, Nevada, were reported by the police to have been drowned when the launch sank in the Hudson river off 138th street early today.

The police said that in the absence of an official statement by the naval authorities they based the report on information from persons who said they witnessed the sinking and heard the cries of drowning sailors. These witnesses declared that the launch apparently collided with something just before reaching the Nevada and they had a clear view of what was taking place because of the navy searchlights playing on the scene.

There were fourteen persons in the launch, one being rescued, according to police reports.

Sailors from the battleship Mississippi said the launch struck a submerged log.

It was learned the launch was from the destroyer Bell.

Michael Marshall, a railroad brakeman, who put out in a small boat from shore hoping to effect rescues, said he was told by a navy officer that from 25 to 50 sailors were in the launch and that all except two had been saved.

FOUND DEAD AFTER FALL AT GREEN ROCK

Summer frequenters of Grand Detour who have been guests at the Sheffield house for many seasons will miss a familiar friend upon their return this summer, one always accompanying them on their exploring trips and acting as bodyguard as well as friend, Teddie, the large and handsome Collie belonging to the proprietor of the hotel, C. A. Sheffield.

Teddie met with a tragic end. He accompanied a party of guests on a walk Saturday and when they returned they reported that they had lost Teddie, they knew not how. Saturday evening all waited for his bark, asking admittance into the waiting room, but he did not appear. Sunday morning Mr. Sheffield, searching for him, found his body at the foot of Green Rock to which he fell, it is thought, as he ventured too near the edge of the rock above. Certainly his death was accidental as he lived the happiest, care-free life a dog could wish, with surely never a thought of suicide.

M. E. Griffith and Carl Thome were here last evening from Ashton.

fathers to offer rewards for the apprehension of the murderers, all of whom had escaped. At that time the prosecutor said he had no doubt that he could convict them of the foulest murder in the annals of the county, and as a result of his plea the supervisors offered a reward of $200 each for the arrest of the three. A short time afterwards Johnson and Lucas were apprehended at Hannibal, Mo., through the efforts of Sheriff Schoenholz, and he returned with his prisoners. All efforts to find Wilson have thus far been unavailing.

The men were indicted by the January grand jury, and were arraigned in court, entering a plea of "Not Guilty" through Attorney Martin J. Gannon, whom they had retained. Mr. Gannon entered a plea for continuance on the ground that he had not had sufficient time to investigate the case, and although State's Attorney Edwards fought a continuance most determinedly it was granted by the judge; and Cleveland Chawick and William Coles, two negro witnesses, who had been held prior to a coroner's recognition, were released from custody on their promises to be present at the April term of the court to appear against the accused.

Spent Morning Singing.

If the two negroes who are now facing a trial for their lives felt any worry at the probable outcome of the case they failed to show it during the morning, for sounds of hearty laughter and singing could be heard in their cells during almost the entire time between breakfast and dinner.

less meat if back and kidneys hurt

Take a glass of Salts to flush kidneys if bladder bothers you—Drink lots of water.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish; clog up and cause all sorts of distress; particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

Today's Market Report

(By Associated Press Leased Wire)

CORN MAINTAINS GAINS DESPITE LARGER SUPPLY

By Associated Press Leased Wire Chicago, April 28.—Prospects of enlarged receipts had only a transient bearish effect today on the corn market. On declines, the fact that the pit became bare of offerings made shrewd security for protection, and led to a sharp upturn in prices. Besides, bullish constructions were generally placed on published statements of the director of the supreme food council. Opening prices which ranged from the same as Saturday's finish to 2 1/4c lower with July 1.63 1/4 to 1.69 and Sept. 1.63 1/4 to 1.64 1/4, were followed by a material advance all around.

Oats showed independent strength. Sellers were scarce. After opening unchanged to 1c higher, with July 72 1/2 to 73 1/2, the market scored moderate further gains.

Provisions rallied with corn. At first however, values were sharply lower owing to a setback in quotations on hogs. July and September rose to the highest levels yet this season, but subsequently hedging sales and liquidation by holders brought about pronounced weakness. Receipts here were the largest in some time. Prices closed heavy, 1 3/4c to 4c net lower, with July 1.65 to 1.65 1/4 and Sept. 1.62 1/4 to 1.62 1/4.

Deserted from Navy to Fight in France

By Associated Press Leased Wire Chicago, April 28.—Frank W. Allee, 18 years old, of Springfield, Mo., was uncertain today whether he is classed as a deserter from the navy. A month before the United States entered the world war, young Allee, then 16, enlisted in the navy in the hope that he might get into the fight.

Sixteen months' inaction at a navy yard brought him no comfort, so he deserted and enlisted in the 602nd engineers at Boston under the name of Jack Anderson. Three weeks later he was in France, and then as the American forces went forward he was at Chateau Thierry, in St. Mihiel and in the Argonne woods. After the armistice was signed he went with his unit to Coblenz, and a couple of weeks ago he was mustered out of service.

After visiting his parents in Springfield, he went to the Great Lakes naval training station and surrendered to Provost Marshal Lieutenant R. C. MacDuffie. Lieutenant MacDuffie said the "camp" and navy veteran" was a prisoner at large, waiting for the navy department to decide his case.
